

Welcome to the Second Scientific Workshop of WP 5
Psychological Research and Treatments.

March 1st 2013, Library at 61 Whitehall SW1A 2ET, London

Objectives

The main objectives of the workshop are (1) to revise and refine the list of gaps in knowledge in the field of psychological research and intervention in Europe, and (2) to define a list of up to 20 advances needed to solve these gaps (with a perspective of 15 years).

Methods

In preparation of this meeting, please find attached the interim report of our workpackage. We suggest to go through section 7 (pages 11 to 14) carefully, since this will be the starting point of the second workshop.

- As you can see in the draft agenda below, we will revise and refine this list, and you are welcome to suggest to add anything that you think might be missing.
- After that we will need you to suggest which are the advances needed to solve these gaps. In order to do that, we encourage you to think with a perspective of 15 years and to try to be as creative and innovative as possible.
- Then, we will try to regroup these advances needed and to reduce the list to the main 20 advances needed.
- Finally, we will need to create a final detailed description of each of the main advances needed.
